GERMANS MAY REQUEST TO SIGN WITHIN A WEEK.

Delegates Return to Versailles Prepared to Accept Terms Without Qualifications, Report.

BY HENRY WALES.
(BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.)

PARIS, May 19.—Count von Brockdorff-Rantzau, Warburg, German delegate returned to Versailles at noon today, and the report is current this afternoon that he brought instructions to sign the peace treaty as soon as possible, even if unable to obtain any concessions. The report that the enemy may request that peace be signed without qualifications to the ominous political situation in Germany, according to Mohammedan troubles in the British Empire Lloyd George favors leaving Constantinople to Turkey. I understand the American commission is not unfavorable to this. The only people opposing, as neither France, England nor the United States, are taking a mandate through jealousy of the United States obtaining a dominant position at the world's peace conference.

It was positively stated that the United States will retain 700,000 tons of shipping seized in American ports, despite British protest. The situation agreed to by the British weeks ago. America will retain German shipping, to be divided according to tonnage sunk, and the rest of the fleet.

Time question was settled through internationalizing the city of Paris, granting equal rights to all nations. The League of Nations will administer France. The only point of the Austrian treaty open are the Austrian boundaries. The commission is a clear-cut victory for President Wilson.

CONGRESS CONVENES.

G.O.P. in Control of Both Branches.

Cummins President Pro Tem. of Senate; Gillett is New Speaker of House.

Wilson's Message to Be Read Today; Lodge Names Committee Assignments.

WASHINGTON, May 19.—The Sixty-sixth or "reconstruction" Congress, called into extraordinary session by President Wilson from Paris, convened at noon today, and Republican majorities in Senate and House organized both bodies. The Republicans for the first time since 1911 returned to control of the national legislature.

Representative Gillett of Massachusetts was elected Speaker of the House over Representative Champ Clark, Democratic candidate, and former Speaker, by a vote of 227 to 172.

Senator Cummins, the Republican candidate, was chosen President pro tempore of the Senate over Senator Pittman of Nevada, Democrat, 77 to 42. Several Democrats were absent, but all Republicans were in their seats, two withholding their votes.

Routine organization affairs comprised the opening day's proceedings, both bodies adjourning until noon tomorrow. President Wilson's cable message will be read separately in the Senate and House. The Senate today concluded its session in fifty minutes, and the House in two hours and twenty minutes.

There was no outward evidence in the initial proceedings of the enormous amount of work ahead. The peace treaty, signed by Germany, is not expected to appear in Congress before next month. All hold promises of dramatic debate.

TO RUSH APPROPRIATIONS. Appropriation bills which failed in the filibuster last March will be rushed immediately in the House. Chairman Hoover of the Appropriations Committee called a meeting for tomorrow to begin work on the general deficiency measure. Legislation dealing with railroads, telegraphs, and telephones, woman suffrage, prohibition, and other subjects are also expected to be introduced.

This legislation is expected to hold Congress in session almost continuously until the end of the month. Investigations planned by the Republicans of numerous administration acts also are expected to begin in the near future, with inauguration probable in the House in connection with appropriation bills.

The flood of bills which is expected to come to the House today, and the Senate's initial message will be presented tomorrow. House resolution No. 1 was the woman suffrage constitutional amendment.

Herbert H. Lehman, of New York, Republican Leader of the House, said today that the House will be "in a serious condition."

BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE. CHATHAM (Mass.) May 19.—Lieut. Charles L. Ostridge of Watertown, Mass., and Quartermaster Herbert H. Lehman of Reading, Pa., were drowned today when a naval seaplane fell into the ocean off Orleans.

Members of the Orleans Coast Guard crew could be seen through glasses, several hours after the accident, apparently working over the men with a pulmotor.

Ensign Everett P. Walsh, a third member of the seaplane crew, was rescued by another machine and brought to the station hospital in a serious condition.

BIDWELL DIES OF INJURIES. (BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.) KANSAS CITY (Mo.) May 19.—Lieut. Ira M. Bidwell, who was injured in an airplane crash last Thursday at Enid, Okla., died last night in a hospital at Cherokee, Okla., according to a message received here today.

ON TO LISBON!

NC-4 ON LAST LEG TODAY.

WASHINGTON, May 19.—Rear Admiral Jackson, at Ponta Delgada, called the Navy Department tonight that the American naval seaplane NC-4, in command of Lieutenant-Commander A. C. Read, would leave Horta, Fayal, tomorrow at 7 o'clock Greenwich time (2 a.m. Washington time) if weather conditions permit. A stop will be made at Ponta Delgada, the message said.

The early hour set for the start of the flight for Ponta Delgada was interpreted by naval officials here to mean that Commander Read would attempt tomorrow to make the entire trip of more than 2,000 miles in 24 hours.

Fortified, the real end of the trans-Atlantic flight. The stop at Ponta Delgada was thought to be planned for the purpose of obtaining supplies.

COMMANDER OF NC-1 TELLS EXPERIENCES.

LOST BEARING IN FOG, COMPELLED TO DESCEND, RESCUED BY IONIA.

BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS. HORTA, May 19.—Lieutenant-Commander P. N. L. Bellinger, the commander of the NC-1, gave out a statement today in which he told of his experience at the close of the flight.

In part the statement said: "We kept our course until we struck the fog, when we lost our bearings."

"We made a good landing on the sea, which was rough and choppy with heavy swells. A strong wind continued until we were picked up."

"At 6 p.m. (Greenwich time) we sighted the mast of the Ionia above the horizon. We were unable to see the hull and as she did not have wireless we were unable to communicate with her. We therefore started looking toward her."

"We were rescued with difficulty because the small boat was so close to the shore that it was like a cork. All of us were sick; otherwise we did not suffer."

"We sent out S.O.R. calls after landing, but the radio sending radius was only fifty miles. The entrance to the harbor was not visible. While awaiting rescue we intercepted messages between destroyers. We last heard the radio of the NC-4 at 8:15 o'clock, Saturday morning."

U. S. COMMANDER WINS PLUCKY FIGHT WITH WIND AND WAVES; HAWKER'S FATE STILL MYSTERY

BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.

LONDON, Tuesday, May 20, 1:45 a.m.—According to the Daily Mail, British Admiralty headquarters in Queenstown, when questioned at 11:15 o'clock last night, denied having received a wireless dispatch from the Castle town station saying Hawker's machine had landed forty miles west of the mouth of the River Shannon, or any other wireless.

Moreover, it was asserted, the especially sensitive wireless plant at Ballybunion, on the northwest coast of County Kerry, Ireland, did not receive the message.

Admiralty officers in London are investigating the mystery.

LONDON, May 19, 11:08 p.m.—Aviator Hawker is reported to be safe, according to a Central News dispatch from Tralee, Ireland.

The dispatch adds that Hawker dropped into the sea thirty miles from Tralee, off the west coast of County Kerry and south of Dingle Bay.

LONDON, May 19, 10:55 p.m.—A wireless dispatch to the Admiralty from the Castle town station says: "Seaplane machine down in latitude 52° 30' north, longitude 11° west, which is about forty miles west of the mouth of the River Shannon. It is not known whether Hawker was found. The Admiralty statement adds that Hawker's machine had been picked up."

LONDON, May 19, 10:45 p.m.—It is reported that Hawker is missing. A dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph from Londonderry reporting Hawker as missing says destroyers have been ordered to sea to search for him.

LONDON, May 19, 9:15 p.m.—Harry Hawker was compelled to land in the sea within 100 miles of Dingle Bay, according to a Central News dispatch reporting a wireless message received at Limerick. The aviator evidently was making for the estuary of the River Shannon.

High Spots on the Map of Hawker's Flight. At top, course of flight across Atlantic. Below, the Irish coast region wherein the British aviator is reported to have dropped into the sea and where his plane is said to have been found. Loop Head is the most western point of County Clare and is on the south-central part of the western coast of Ireland. The entrance to the River Shannon is guarded by Loop Head on the north and Kerry Head on the south. Loop Head is about eight miles west of Limerick, which is about seventy-five miles north of Fermoy, where Hawker intended to make his Irish landing place.

GLOOM AT ST. JOHN'S OVER HAWKER.

ST. JOHN'S (N. F.) May 19.—Early reports of Harry Hawker's safe arrival on the Irish coast, at first accepted as true, gave way tonight to grave fears for the fate of the Australian aviator and his navigator, Commander Mackenzie Grieve. When darkness fell it was felt no news was bad news, for the time allotted for the history-making flight had long since passed.

This little city, which had harbored Hawker and Grieve, wanted to believe they were safe on the other side of the Atlantic. Bells tolled against their success were paid cheerfully at the first report they had landed and the whole city voiced its happiness.

Capt. Frederick P. Raymond, the British aviator who was badly cut and bruised in the collapse of his Martin's plane when he tried to "take off" in the wake of his rival, sent a message of congratulations to Hawker from his sick bed and issued a statement applauding what he termed his "fellow Briton's success."

When the realization struck home that the twenty-hour flying period for which the Sopwith carried fuel had elapsed without official report of the aviators, those familiar with the dangers of the adventure hesitatingly advanced the guess the flight had stopped short of its goal.

Interest at once turned to the possible fate of the aviators, perhaps adrift in their ingeniously constructed "emergency boat" which had been shaped to form the rear hood of the Sopwith's fuselage after it had been tested here and proved to possess considerable seaworthiness. Then there were the "non-sinkable" rubber suits which Hawker and Grieve wore and discussion switched to them. They were of the United States Navy's type, designed to be inflated through a small pipe.

It was estimated good supplies, including warm drinks, had been stored in the "boat" sufficient to last the two fliers forty-eight hours, provided the "boat" could float that length of time.

Vice-Admiral Mark Kerr, before returning last night to Harbor Grace, where the giant Handley-Page planes are being assembled, said that his expedition would make the trip in the interests of science if denied the chance to be the first.

FIGURES HAWKER STAKED LIFE ON.

NEW YORK, May 19.—The following calculations by an engineer of a company supplying motors for a majority of British airplanes shows what Hawker and Grieve expected their machine to accomplish in the trans-Atlantic flight covering a period of at least twenty hours:

The blade tips of each propeller to travel 12,000 miles. The piston in each cylinder to travel 1440 miles, or, with four motors of twelve cylinders each, the piston distance would be 51,200 miles.

Each engine to make 2,160,000 revolutions. The valves to be operated 25,920,000 times in each engine. The pump forcing water through the radiator to have to lift 35,000 gallons.

The actual work performed by each engine would represent approximately 4,500,000 foot tons, which is sufficient energy to lift the steamship Olympic 100 feet into the air.

WASHINGTON, May 19.

After weathering a sixty-mile gale and heavy seas, the missing seaplane NC-3, flagship of the American naval trans-Atlantic flight squadron, entered Ponta Delgada Harbor today under her own power, nearly sixty hours from the time she was forced down by fog when almost in sight of the Azores on the record-breaking flight from Newfoundland for Lisbon and Plymouth, Eng.

Searching battleships and destroyers were scouring the sea and naval officials had all but abandoned hope for the safety of the flying ship and her crew of five when warships at Ponta Delgada saw the plane taxing across the water headed for the flight objective in the Azores.

Rear-Admiral Jackson immediately cabled the news to the Navy Department, relieving the anxiety of officials and ending the long vigil Mrs. Towers had kept since first news came last Saturday that her husband's seaplane had been lost in the fog 300 miles from the Azores.

TOWERS' REPORT. In a detailed report received at the Navy Department tonight from Commander Towers, the officer said the NC-3 "had suffered severely." The hull was slightly damaged and the forward center engine struts were damaged seriously in landing, while the port wing pontoon was carried away when riding out the gale. The report indicates the

ANTELOPE CITIZENS BOOST BOND ISSUE

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE TO GIVE BANQUET IN INTEREST OF BETTER ROADS. With the idea of emphasizing the necessity of the proposed $100,000 bond issue for new highways in the state, the Antelope Valley Chamber of Commerce will hold a special banquet on Saturday evening, May 24, at which several prominent Antelope Valley citizens will review the agricultural progress made by the section during the period of the year. The banquet will be held at 6:30 p.m. at the Hotel de Ville. The Antelope chamber is particularly interested in the success of the bond issue because of the necessity of developing extensive rich agricultural sections of the state, which it is contended, have a setback owing to neglected conditions. The organization is meeting with strongly adverse criticism from some of the Antelope Valley citizens, who are opposed to the bond issue. Among the speakers will be the mayor, the chamber president, and other prominent citizens. The Antelope Valley chamber is a non-profit organization, and its funds are used for the benefit of the community.

TRANS-OCEAN PLANE WERE BUILT FOR WAR.

DESIGNED FOR BOMBING SUBMARINES AND TO FLY OVER, SAVING DELIVERY. (BY A. P. DAY WIRE.) WASHINGTON, May 19.—American naval planes which have undertaken the first flight across the Atlantic ocean were built especially for bombing German submarines and to fly over, saving delivery. This was disclosed yesterday by the Navy Department. Early in September, Glenn H. Curtiss, of the Curtiss Aeroplane and Motor Corporation and his engineers, W. L. Gurnee and Henry K. Leckler, came to Washington at the navy's invitation to discuss proposed designs and co-operate with the navy in designing and building the ships. A three foot model of the design, made exactly to scale, was tested in the wind tunnel at Washington navy yard. Construction began in October and Commander R. C. Richardson, a naval constructor, was directed to design the boat's hull. A series of hull models were tested in the towing basin at Washington navy yard and the best of the series adopted. The engine plant design was the work of the bureau of steam engineering and it was decided to install three Liberty motors. In December, 1917, a contract was made with the Curtiss Company for building four of the boats, but only three vessels were left available for the flight.

MRS. HAWKER AND HER HUSBAND

MRS. HAWKER OUT TO MEET HUSBAND. (BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.) BROOKLANDS (Eng.) May 19.—Mrs. Hawker, wife of the aviator, arrived at the Sopwith aerodrome this afternoon. She expressed the belief that her husband will fly directly to the aerodrome here. NEW YORK, May 19.—Harry G. Hawker is an Australian, 27 years old. He began his career as a mechanic and rose to the rank of a flyer under the tutelage of Sopwith, one of the earliest British airmen. He first came into prominence October 24, 1912, when flying a Sopwith biplane designed after the pattern of the Wrights. He established the then British record of eight hours and twenty-three minutes for a duration of flight and won the British Michelin trophy for that year. In 1913, flying a Sopwith equipped with a Gnome motor, he established the then British altitude record of 12,500 feet and on the same day carried aloft two passengers to a height of 10,000 feet. Later he attained what was claimed to be the world's altitude record—23,500 feet—of which, of course, was later excelled. During the war Hawker was engaged as an experimental flyer, assisting in the development of Sopwith machines. The Admiralty has sent all available ships to search for the aviator.

LOST NC-3 AT DELGADA, SAFE.

(Continued from First Page.) The latter plane, Officers here believed the NC-3 commander would be ordered to proceed as soon as weather permits. A dispatch from Rear-Admiral Jackson announcing the NC-3 had been sighted approaching Ponta Delgada on the water under its own power lifted the gloom that slowly had settled over the navy department passed in a moment as the good news came that wildfire through the corridors when Admiral Jackson's terse message was received. As news of Commander Towers's safety spread through the Navy Department, a feeling of relief followed it, for it meant that American airplane constructor had stood the test of storm on the surface as well as having conquered the air. WORLD RECORD. It had been a saying of the service to ride any sea in which they could land. The NC-3 rode out a gale said to have approached a ninety mile rate at times and thus only three vessels were left available for the flight. When Secretary Daniels got word of Towers's safety, he personally telephoned it to Mrs. Towers, wife of the officer, who had clung courageously to her faith and hope through the endless hours of waiting. The Secretary also flashed to the officer a message of congratulation and assurance as to Mrs. Towers's knowledge that he was safe. Later Mrs. Towers received a cablegram from her husband saying "Safe and well." Reports of weather conditions about the Azores, cable to the department tonight by Admiral Jackson, were not altogether favorable for a start by the NC-4 on the next leg of its journey. Rain still overcast that part of the ocean and sea visibility remained low.

REPORT HAWKER IS PICKED UP.

(Continued from First Page.) 150 miles off Ireland at 4 p.m. today. The Air Ministry announced shortly after 5 o'clock that it had no confirmation of the report that Hawker was off Ireland at 4 o'clock this afternoon. LONDON, May 19.—Harry G. Hawker, his third flight, has been sighted off Ireland, according to an unofficial report received by the Admiralty. Naval and military lookouts on the western coast of Ireland reported at 2 o'clock this afternoon no sign of Hawker. London anxiously awaited news of the aviator, but up to 4 o'clock there was no official confirmation of the report that he had been sighted off Ireland. A map shop in Fleet street this afternoon was showing a chart purporting to give Hawker's position at 4:50 o'clock a.m. at about longitude 22, latitude 52. There is no confirmation of this report, however, from any other source. LONDON, May 19.—London spent the day in excitement and suspense waiting the result of Harry Hawker's bold attempt to fly across the Atlantic. After a day of anxious inquiries and unverified rumors and speculation, the fate of the pilot and his navigator, Mackenzie Grieve, is still unknown. A Sopwith machine, supposed to be Hawker's, according to an Admiralty wireless report, descended to the surface of the ocean forty miles west of the mouth of the Shannon. Later Admiralty reports said that information was not considered reliable. Early unverified reports were that the Sopwith machine were countered a gale which reduced its speed to forty miles an hour and finally compelled it to descend owing to exhaustion of gasoline. Crowds of people waited the day long at the Brooklands Aerodrome, where Hawker learned to fly, believing the aviator would make his landing there, although several had expressed the opinion that Hawker would unlikely be able to fly there after 5 o'clock this afternoon owing to his limited supply of petrol. The vigil was kept after dark, however, on the chance that the aviator might arrive. Mrs. Hawker remained at the aerodrome until 9 o'clock. Her faith in her husband's skill had enabled her to endure the suspense calmly, but on leaving for home she was unable to conceal her anxiety, although she still remained comparatively cheerful. The fate of Hawker and Grieve cannot be stated definitely, and to Fugitive sought as counterfeiter was caught through gun play in an attempted elopement which landed him in Vinella jail, where he was identified; rental partner also is jailed as coiner. Over 200 members of the One Hundred and Forty-fifth Machine Gun Battalion, heroes of the Argonne, were the city's guests while en route to demobilization points. First French war bride arrived. She is the wife of a corporal of the Eighteenth Engineers and cannot speak a word of English. Good name of a contractor's wife was attacked in support suit by mention of a "star" boarder and she introduced evidence to remove the "shot" on her reputation. "About two years ago when suffering a severe attack of summer complaint I took Chamberlain's Colic, Bile Beans, and it relieved me almost instantly," writes Mrs. Henry Jewett, Clark Mills, N. Y. WORKS IN POISON OAK AND IVY WITHOUT FEAR.

"THE Laurel Hill Cemetery, of which I am superintendent," writes J. H. Brummett, of Springfield, Or., "the poison oak. I take it very easily. When I sent you for a bottle of Bantastic, Lotion I had had poison oak for five months. I commenced using it as soon as I got it, and kept working in the poison oak. I am now entirely cured, and believe me, it certainly takes nothing even to be me. I had and have tried everything I or anybody else ever heard of, including all kinds of guaranteed remedies. Just simply time and money wasted. Bantastic certainly did the work." Anybody who has ever experienced the tortures of poison oak or ivy will be grateful for the information that this extremely irritating annoyance is no longer to be feared. The pain, itching, fever and irritation disappear almost like magic after a few applications of Bantastic. Bantastic also heals and prevents other skin irritations, such as sunburn, windburn, chafing, fever and cold sores and insect bites. It is a remarkable soothing and healing lotion. Men use it for shaving and the women for the complexion and for babies' tender skin. Bantastic is easily procured at most drug stores. If your dealer cannot supply it, send 5c cents, with his name, to the Eberbach Laboratories, Portland, Or., for a full-size bottle, postpaid.—Adv.

Railway Unions are Ready to Act in Sympathy.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)

WINNIPEG (Man.) May 19.—The general strike deadlock continued in Winnipeg all day today. There was no announced approach toward any settlement. Quiet prevailed throughout the city. These reports have not only been denied by city officials and leading members of citizens' vigilance committees, but by union officials.

ASKS INDICTMENT OF STATE MILK DEALERS.

SAN FRANCISCO'S DISTRICT ATTORNEY ALLEGES CONTROL OF PRICES.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)

SAN FRANCISCO, May 19.—Contract, a mass of statistics and other documentary matter will be presented to the county grand jury tonight by the District Attorney's office to show an alleged violation of the Cartwright Act of 1907 on the part of milk dealers throughout California in controlling the price of milk.

This was announced here today by Fred L. Berry, acting District Attorney.

Through five district associations covering all milk producing districts of the State, a central organization of producers contracted to fix the price of milk to dealers at 35 cents a gallon and price of distribution to consumers at 14 cents a quart, said Berry.

"We believe this is a clear violation of the Cartwright Act as interpreted in a Supreme Court ruling in the case of Jervis, Los Angeles, which developed a wholesale control of bread prices by which the defendant company fixed a minimum price for bread from distributor to consumer."

Berry said the central association is the Associated Dairymen of California, Inc., which he said by a system of interlocking directors controlled the Central California, Northern California, San Joaquin Valley, Imperial Valley and California Milk Producers' associations. These subsidiary corporations are located at San Francisco, Sacramento, Stockton, Imperial and Los Angeles.

The president of the Associated Dairymen is J. M. Henderson, Jr., and M. T. Freitas is vice-president.

COURT BARS HEARST FROM STEALING NEWS.

SUIT OF THE ASSOCIATED PRESS AGAINST INTERNATIONAL NEWS SERVICE WON.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)

NEW YORK, May 19.—The suit brought by the Associated Press against the International News Service in the United States District court came up on the calendar today and a decree was entered for the complainant.

This suit was instituted by the Associated Press to restrain the International News Service from taking the news of the Associated Press from its members or newspapers published by them, and using or selling the same. A preliminary injunction was granted by Judge Augustus N. Hand of the United States District court July 7, 1917, which has recently been sustained by the Supreme Court of the United States.

In view of this decision the International News Service did not press its defense, but consented to the entry of the final decree, which grants a perpetual injunction in the same terms as the preliminary injunction.

The final decree perpetually enjoins the International News Service, its officers, employees and agents from taking, appropriating or selling any news received from or gathered by the Associated Press, by obtaining it from members of the Associated Press or their employees or from any bulletins issued or newspapers published by such members.

THAT FENCE BOBS UP AGAIN

Buy Property and Inherits Troubles.

Six-footer, of Solid Boards, that Won't Down

It separates the properties of S. E. Huff and Dan McCarthy on West Forty-seventh place.

Reviewing the Mike Sweeney and Dan McCarthy fence case, which dates back to 1912, Attorney Henry M. Willis yesterday filed a suit in behalf of S. E. Huff of 433 West Forty-seventh place, against Dan McCarthy of 411 West Forty-seventh place, which is next door, to compel the latter to remove the fence.

The suit is being based upon the fact that in 1905, when Emil Pirth sold a lot to Dan McCarthy, a street car motorman, the deed contained restrictions which are said to prohibit the erection of anything whatever, with the exception of a residence, to cost not less than $1500, and the customary outbuildings, including a private stable, the house to be twenty feet back from the front line of the lot.

About four years ago the McCarthy and their next-door neighbors, the Sweeneys, who sold Mr. Huff the property, experienced considerable unhappiness because, it is alleged, their children did not play together harmoniously. It ended, it seems, with Mr. McCarthy putting up a six-foot solid board fence extending back from the sidewalk a distance of more than twenty feet. Attorney Willis declares that the fence constitutes a building or outbuilding, and is therefore a violation of the building restrictions. An effort has been made to compromise in the matter, but without success.

Word was received yesterday by Deputy Sheriff Fox and Nolan that Gov. Stephens again refused to honor a requisition for extradition to Arizona of Roy O. SENTIMENTAL, BUT BUSINESS-LIKE Man Wants to Buy Back Site of Old Home, but Offers Only $200.

Sentiment attached to the property where Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Crowe were married, and where their babies were born and raised, has caused Mr. Crowe to ask the city to sell back to him so much of the property as is not now used for public improvement. The request was made to the City Council yesterday, and was referred to the Finance Committee.

Mr. Crowe, whose address is 621 Stockton street, San Francisco, but who is temporarily at the Clark Hotel here, sent to the Council a letter in which he says that he and his wife were married at the place mentioned, their children were born and raised there, and since they have lost their eldest son in the war, his wife has asked him to try to get the place back to her. This is a property at the top of the hill south of the Kane-street stairway leading to Lake Shore avenue. It was needed to open the way for the stairway, but a plot of about 5000 feet remained unused. Mr. Crowe offers $200 for this tract.

FOR LOVE, AND DOLLARS?

Man Who has had Five Wives and Woman Thrice Wed
Seek to Part.

These people have been married so often that they should have known how to get along without the protection of a divorce court," said Judge Taft yesterday in the case of Mrs. Betty A. Adams against L. J. Adams. She wanted alimony, she is 50 and he 70. She has been married three times and he five times. The court refused alimony until the divorce case is heard.

WITH PAINT AND FIST.

Henderson, It is Said, Thus Tried to Get a Union Recall.

In Police Judge Crawford's court yesterday, A. L. Henderson, a boilermaker, working for a harbor ship-building company, was brought to trial before a jury charged with assault and battery, by Meri Eubanks, a counter for the same company.

ON MURDER CHARGE.

Los Angeles Hold-up Man Attempts to Kill Officer in North.

Special Agent Hansen of the United States Treasury Department received word yesterday that Fred B. Wilson, who was taken into custody at Seattle, some weeks ago, on the charge of being wanted in Kansas City, for forging postal money orders, and who has confessed that he held up F. L. Orr, at his store at Twelfth street and Central avenue, last winter, will face a charge of attempted murder.

BEANS ARE PEAS, IS COMPANY'S DEFENSE.

ODD TWIST IS GIVEN TO CASE INVOLVING CONTRACT ON BLACK EYES.

Experts, testifying before a jury in Judge McCormick's court yesterday in a bean suit, gave an odd twist to the case by declaring that the black-eyed beans upon which the suit was based, are not beans, but peas. It was shown that they are grown, harvested and shrunk like peas.

MEDAL FROM QUEEN.

Los Angeles Woman Remembered for Allied War Work.

Mrs. May Jackson, of 1114 Hyperion avenue, has just received in recognition of her help in war work, a gold medal from Queen Alexandra, also a letter of thanks. She has worked for four years and is a half with the Allied Aid Association. Her only son, A. F. Jackson, is expected home from the front the end of this month. He is in the Canadian Royal Field Artillery and has seen service eighteen months in France, Belgium, and the Occupation Army in Germany, his battery being the first to cross the Rhine.

WOODS' PLEA VAIN.

Court Unwilling to Let the Ex-Policeman Down Easy.

Declaring that in the case of R. G. Woods, a former city policeman, accused of grand larceny, evidence seemed to show that a man supposed to uphold the law had used his position to break it, Justice Hinchey yesterday held the defendant to answer.

VOLUNTARY PATIENT.

Earl Rogers Now at Norwalk Asylum for Treatment.

Earl Rogers, well-known criminal lawyer of this city, is now a voluntary patient at Norwalk Asylum, according to information from the County Hospital yesterday. Mr. Rogers, upon his own request, was allowed to leave the psychopathic ward of the County Hospital Saturday evening for treatment at Norwalk.

FIGHTERS ARE CITY'S GUESTS.

Heroes of Argonne Stop Over Here for Several Hours.

Auto Rides and Visits with Friends Take up Time.

ARE EN ROUTE FROM EAST TO DEMOBILIZATION POINTS.

For several hours yesterday 233 members of the One Hundred and Forty-fifth Machine-gun Battalion, all Californians and all heroes of the Argonne campaign, were guests of the city. They were en route to their demobilization camps, eighty-nine men and one officer being bound to Camp Kearny, and 135 men and eight officers to the Presidio, San Francisco. But at the request of the Los Angeles Welcome Committee, of which Col. B. B. Ray is chairman, they were permitted to come here to enjoy the city's welcome and hospitality, an arrangement which the soldiers themselves heartily enjoyed.

STORY OF LOST LOVE REVEALED.

Startling Charges by Greene Against Mahana.

Tells of Shooting at Rich Man in His Home.

DETAILS OF SEPARATE SUPPORT SETTLEMENT ANNOUNCED.

Thomas H. Green, the young husband who sued George T. Mahana, wealthy local insurance man, for $50,000, charging that Mahana won away his wife's affections, yesterday told for the first time the story of his broken romance, told how, he said, he had ordered Mahana from his home, and then returned to find all the furniture removed from the house and a farewell note from Mrs. Green, indicating that she had gone to Nevada to get a divorce.

STORY OF ROMANCE.

Mrs. Green is 32 years old. Before her marriage on June 24, 1918, to Green, she was Helen Glass, the adopted daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. Glass, wealthy Kansas City people. Miss Glass became acquainted with Green, who lived two blocks away from the Glass mansion, at South and Olive streets, Kansas City. The Greens were also wealthy, and Thomas H. Green, the husband who is suing Mr. Mahana, inherited a large sum of money. Following their marriage eleven years ago young Mr. Green, who was then a young man, became acquainted with Mr. and Mrs. Mahana. He was a young married man. Mr. Mahana, now 33 years old, and Mrs. Mahana the same age as Mrs. Green. The young wives had much in common and visited each other frequently.

CRUSHED IN DRIVE CHAIN, BOY MAY DIE.

Arrested in their rooms near Sixth and San Julian streets, yesterday, when police detectives seized a number of automobiles, three, George Hansen and Jack Doves, both self-styled salesmen, confessed to stealing and stripping a number of automobiles within the past week. A large part of the loot was located in the prisoners' rooms and recovered.

COUPLE WERE HAPPY UNTIL WEALTH CAME.

WIFE WOULD NOW ENJOIN HUSBAND FROM INTERFERING WITH HER.

A story of inherited wealth and unhappiness unfolded in Judge Taft's court yesterday in the case of Ruby against Victor A. Rosebach, in which Mrs. Rosebach wanted her husband restrained from interfering with her, and excluding him from the family residence in Hollywood. Mr. Rosebach was a railroad man back in Iowa. He and his wife lived happily together on his salary. One day she inherited a considerable fortune. They had two sons, one an invalid. The Rosebachs bought two pieces of property in this county, worth about $50,000, and lived in a twelve-room house in Hollywood. Several months ago a dispute arose whether or not her husband had an interest in the property. A suit was filed to settle that matter and is pending. Meantime, Mrs. Rosebach, the evidence shows, accused her husband of drinking too much, and charged cruel treatment running back a number of years. Yesterday she sought a court order excluding her husband from the house. Judge Taft granted the order restraining Mr. Rosebach from interfering with his wife, but ordered that he should occupy a bedroom at the end of the house, which was away from his wife. Mrs. Rosebach was represented by Attorney Winters.

UNUSUAL COMPLAINT.

Woman who was Present Held for Statutory Offense.

Emma Bitter was accused of a statutory offense in an unusual complaint issued yesterday by Deputy District Attorney Randall. It is alleged that she was present at a time that L. L. Johnson is said to have committed a statutory offense against Lillian Bingham. L. E. Martin and Johnson are also under arrest.

DISCUSS PSYCHOLOGY.

Psychology applied to the smaller and larger things in life was discussed at the dinner of the Los Angeles Chapter of the International Salesmanagers last night at the City Club. F. E. Owens, a professor in psychology, delivered an interesting discourse on the subject. Mr. Parker, who was with the A.E.F. in Siberia, gave a short talk on Siberia and Bolshevism as he had seen it in the regions occupied by the Allied troops.

MAHANA SETTLEMENT.

As for the suit for separate maintenance filed by Mrs. Mahana against her husband, that was withdrawn last Friday. When the suit was filed Mrs. Mahana had grounds to believe that her husband was going to leave her. She had told her story to her attorney, Nat Brown, representing Mrs. Mahana, and said, "What do you want?" He was told that Mrs. Mahana was a business man of standing in this city, and he has acted honorably, I am sure.

MUNICIPAL FAD IS NEAR DEATH.

City Markets are Due to go Into Oblivion.

They Cost a Lot and Were of no Real Value.

Olsen Proposes Another Job for Superintendent.

Another municipal fad—the municipal markets, which have cost the taxpayers approximately $7500 a year for several years past—is about to pass into oblivion. Preliminary steps to this end were taken at City Hall yesterday. For a while they were numerous; then they dwindled and one by one were closed down until only three are left—one in Hollywood, one in the Southwest and one in Boyle Heights. They've proved profitable for hucksters, and they've cost the city a municipal job, but that is about all the benefit they have been, and it has cost the city a pretty penny to keep up the fad, their opponents say.

It is probable that Councilman Olsen will formulate his plans in the form of a statement to the Council within a few days.

The People and Their Troubles

HUSBAND HUNTERS I HAVE MET.

BY JANE DIXON.

The Mercenary Husband Chaser.

Have you seen the mercenary husband hunter yet? I have. I have seen her, after she has married her money, meet the one man. He happened to be a man who could not understand a woman playing fast and loose with her husband. She had made a bargain.

Now she was sick of it, wanted to wench. The man despised a wench. He despised the sort of woman who could marry for money. This one had to stand by and see another woman come into the happiness, the home, she craved.

Need I ask you whether or not every dollar of the money hunter's matrimonial fortune was a hot ploughshare, and will be to the end of the journey?

Mercenary girl, you can buy beautiful blood-red roses with money, perfect roses, hothouse roses, soulless, scentless roses. But tomorrow they will turn to ashes—ashes of roses.

The real rose of life, the sweet, old-fashioned rose with the blush petals, the rose whose perfume and color lasts long after it has been pressed between the pages of the family album—that rose can only be picked in the Garden of Honest Affection.

STORY OF THE WOMAN WHO MADE MATRIMONIAL BARGAIN, ONLY TO WENCH. ARTICLE II.

Two girls of friendship long standing were exchanging confidences. Both girls were passing wise in the ways of the world.

Both had traveled far, for their part, along the pathway of life. They had traveled much the same pathway, but strange enough they had arrived at different destinations. They had been scratched by the same thorn bushes.

They had stepped upon the same snail.

They had stumbled into the same mud holes.

They had been stranded in the same rut.

They had sped along the same smooth straight stretches when the one slumped, gathered gay posies from the same banks of happiness, drunk deep from the clear cool waters of the same wayward spring.

Yet here they were, a little weary, but eager to push on and as far apart as east is from west.

Said the first girl: "I've met some one I like a lot."

Said the second girl: "Not in love, are you?"

First Girl: "I'm afraid I am—I mean, I hope I am."

Second Girl: "Has he any money?"

First Girl: "I don't know. Probably not."

Second Girl: "Heaven deliver us."

The confidence tells the story. It works the parts of destination at you like to happen across her some ten or maybe fifteen years hence, sitting in the hollow shell of her luxury whining because the world has cheated her out of her woman's rights?

Why does a girl want money? Because money buys the things she wants.

Why does she want pretty clothes, jewels, a luxurious home, a motor? To please herself. To appear attractive in the eyes of someone for whom she cares.

If she cannot be attractive for the eye of some one for whom she cares the clothes, the jewels, the luxuries lose half their value. She has paid 50 per cent of the cost price and received nothing in return.

A woman goes to buy a gown. Nine times out of ten—yes, ninety-nine out of a hundred—the woman will consider the gown through the eyes of the man. If he likes blue, her preference will be for a blue frock. If he has declared in favor of plain clothes, she will ask to see some thing simple.

She schemes to attract her man. That is nature. The bird-wife pretends to please her feathered hero. The fairest frock ever built without the eyes of the man. If he likes blue, her preference will be for a blue frock. If he has declared in favor of plain clothes, she will ask to see some thing simple.

What pleasure can there be in a place without a prince to turn it into a palace? And wouldn't the diamond-studded scales of the dragon grow deadly tiresome, no matter how much they sparkled?

What fun is there in huddling against the back of a limousine with Midas and the god of love a thousand miles over the sea? One must be always and forever imagining what it might be like with the right man.

Kindly note the money-hunting girl did not ask her friend what sort of a fellow this new love was. She was not anxious to know if he was clean, clever, real, regular, if he measured up to the standard of true American manhood, than which there is no higher. She did not even care if he had a couple of arms and as many legs. "Has he the money?" That was the big issue.

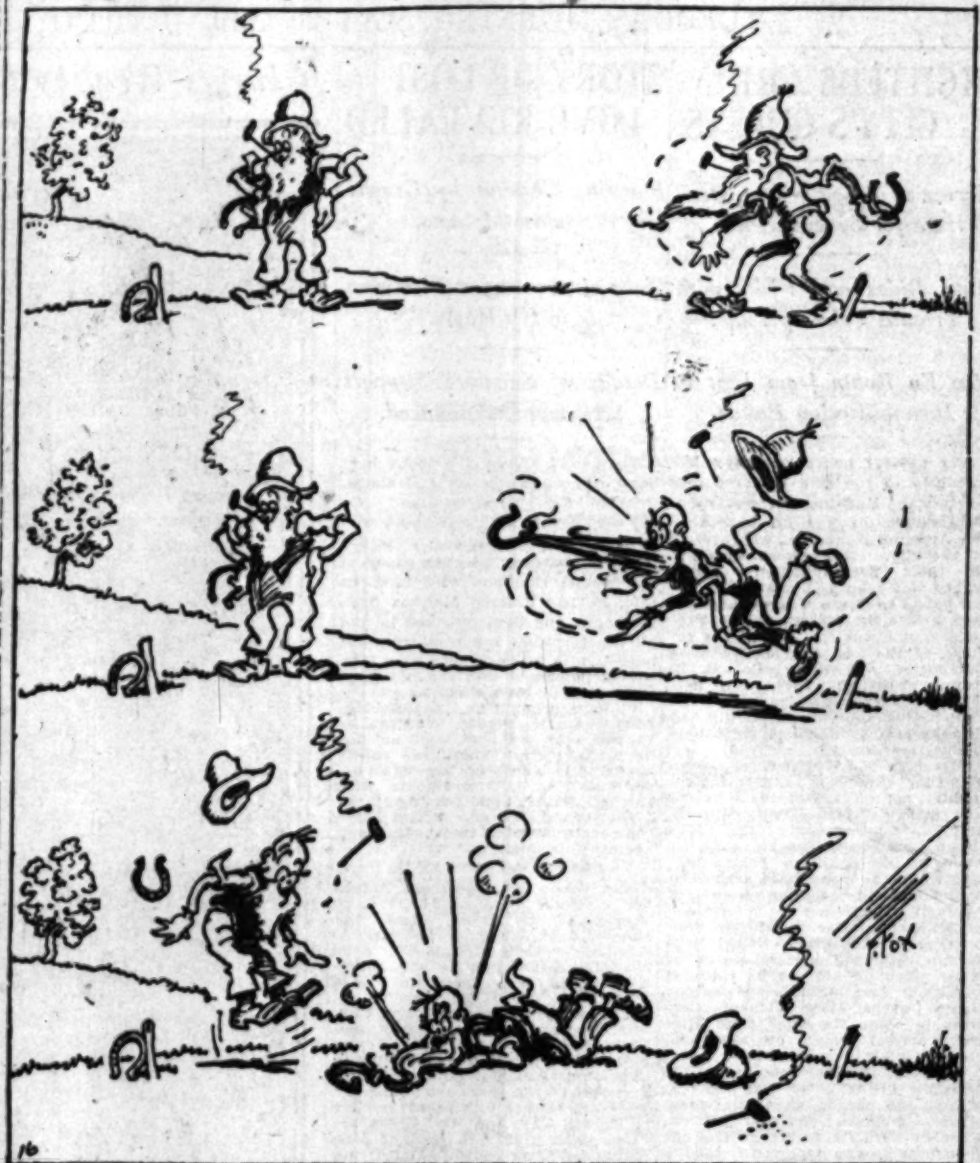

I have met husband hunters of her caliber before. So have you. One of them found a boy with a bloated bank account and an ingrowing desire to prove himself a wizard with the cards.

Tales came to the girl about the boy not being always strictly on the level with the game. She did not care. She was only interested in the bank account and in extracting enough of the blast out of it to insure her own luxury before it was entirely dissipated over the gaming table.

She had overlooked the surest thing in life—the eternal balance. The scale of the eternal balance is "so much for so much." Give and get. The girl gave nothing. She got a cheat for a husband, a trifle, a show-up with the marriage law.

The Quoit Championship

By Fox.

Old Man Sim Also Lost the Opening Game this Season by a Hair.

After a while she found she had a thing. She had to spend the money for which she had sold her soul and her body on lawyers' fees to keep her from being the wife of a jailbird. So much for so much.

Another dollar chaser married a man old enough to be her grandfather, an ancient rascal of the worst kind who was trying to fool the world into believing he still wore a scullery maid or something.

The ending of this pretty tale of brides and bankrupts? A few months later the girl eloped with the gardener, the fellow who for the magnificent sum of "40 a month and found," saw to it that the scenery around the master's handsome country estate was kept properly fertilized. The girl was in such a hurry to leave she forgot to pack her pearls necklace.

Or, maybe she figured the aged giver would go after the pearls to get them back and her with them. And she had no intention of being brought back. The last heard of the elopers they were aboard some tramp steamer bound for who knows where, he as a deck hand, she as a scullery maid or something.

The last seen of the abandoned husband he was buying vintage wine for a trio of bold-eyed demagogues, and he was as happy as a bird dog in a field of pheasants. So much for so much.

QUESTIONS ANSWERED.

Q: Is there any way that one can obtain free blue prints of house designs from the government?

A: Yes. Write to the office of roads and rural engineering, Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C., and tell them the type of building in which you are particularly interested and they will furnish blue prints of the plan.

Q: How many men by the name of Smith were in the army?

A: There were more Smiths in the army than men of any other name. These totaled over 11,000. Second in the list stood the Johnsons, numbering 29,000. There were about 23,500 each of the Greens and Joneses, 9900 Browns and 4500 Cohens. There were seventy-four Georges Washingtons, seventy-nine Robert E. Lees, and two Abraham Lincolns.

Q: How long does it take to make an aerial flight from New York City to Chicago?

A: The first nonstop flight by airplane from New York to Chicago was made a few weeks ago by Capt. E. P. White, an army aviator. The distance covered was 127 miles, and the time consumed was six hours and fifty minutes.

Q: At what time were the crosses of St. George and St. Andrew combined in the British flag, the Union Jack?

A: On the accession of James VI of Scotland to the English throne in 1603, he issued a proclamation that "the flag of this land and of Greater Britain should consist of the crosses of St. George and St. Andrew."

The name Jack came from Jacques, the French of James, which was the name used by the King. Later the cross of St. Patrick of Ireland was added.

Q: What is the Canadian farmer's objection to the daylight saving plan?

A: It is principally because it hinders his clock to the new time, the dew will not be off the grass when he begins work. It is also because the hired man wants the same hours of work as the man in town.

Q: How early did the Norsemen visit North America?

A: As early as 1135 the Norsemen visited this continent. In 1124 a monument was discovered which had been erected by these people on an island in Baffin's Bay, denoting the dates of this visit. Other relics left by these Scandinavians such as the old Viking ship hulls which have been found along the north-eastern coast show that many attempts were made to cross the Atlantic. The expeditions have been greatly disputed.

MOTHER WOULD KILL HER BABY.

Threatened its Death Rather than Let Husband Get It.

Strikes Spouse in Face as He Leaves the Courthouse.

Judge Puts Child in Custody of Grandparents.

Exclaiming, "I will kill my baby before he shall have him," referring to her husband, Glenn Hooker, and saying to Judge Craig:

"You are not fair to me." Mrs. Irene May Hooker hurriedly left the witness stand yesterday and rushed into the corridor of the Courthouse.

Mr. Hooker was about to descend the stairs. Leaning over the hand rail, Mrs. Hooker dealt her husband a hard blow in the face. The blow struck his glasses, breaking them, and the glass gashed his cheek.

The next moment Mrs. Hooker fainted from stress of emotion and was carried into a near-by room. A nurse was summoned from the County Health Department and a restorative administered.

Much quieter, but still unrelenting, she repeated her threat to kill her daughter before she would allow Mr. Hooker to have control of her. Her mother and sister-in-law led her from the Courthouse.

Mrs. Hooker, a young woman, has a suit for divorce pending in which she charges that her husband abused her. After the separation she made her home with her brother-in-law and his wife. Mr. Hooker resided with his parents, 507 South Third street, Alhambra.

Mrs. Hooker, in an affidavit, charged his wife with having stayed out late at night and neglecting the baby. He also brought in the name of another man. Mrs. Hooker denied the charge.

As the parents were divided on the question, the court believed the baby would be better off with her grandparents. His announcement resulted in the outburst from Mrs. Hooker and the blow at her husband.

DID NOT ATTACK NEGRESS, WOMEN SAY.

Three women, accused of attacking Anna Jackson, a negress, who was a witness in the first trial, pleaded not guilty to assault with a deadly weapon in Judge Craig's court yesterday. Their trials were set for June 8. The women are Virginia Brooks, Eleanor Boyer, and Gladys Smith, the first two being witnesses in the cases of George Brown and George Henderson, accused of giving a bribe for police protection.

SPORTS MOTORING FILM LAND DRAMA

YACHTING SEASON TO OPEN

Next Saturday; Dress-up Review Proves Success.

that it will attract a large number of contestants as well as those who are followers of the sport, but who are without boats. The annual event, which will send the speedy craft around Santa Catalina Island and San Clemente Island will be heartily welcomed by all who have followed the sport for a number of years.

Taking it all in all, a banner day is scheduled for next Saturday when the most expert yachtsmen and their speedy "white ships" pass forth before the reviewer's stand to be given the official once-over. It promises to be a gala day and should prove to be a most fitting opening for the 1919 yachting season. An announcement of the season's programme will be announced at a later date.

ROAD DIRECTOR INDORSES PLAN.

(BY A. P. STORY WIRE.)

SAN FRANCISCO, May 19.—Stephen T. Mather, director of national parks, gave his indorsement today to a plan of the Yosemite Valley Highway Association to construct with money raised by public subscriptions a paved highway from Merced to El Portal.

Such a highway, Mather said, would make possible year-around travel to the Yosemite. Five-dollar certificates issued by the Yosemite Association may be used, Mather said, in lieu of the government's regular $5 entrance toll into Yosemite.

FOUR NATIONS TO PLAY FOR TROPHY.

(BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

SYDNEY (Australia) May 14 (via Montreal).—The belated Davis cup challenge of the South African Tennis Association, which was received after the entries closed, was accepted.

As a result, four nations will compete for the international cup trophy and a new draw was necessary. The revised pairing will bring together South Africa against the British Isles in the upper half and Belgium against France in the lower section. The winning teams meet for the right to play the Australian team in the challenge round, which is scheduled to be staged at Sydney about December.

MANY PRESENT AT SHOOTING TOURNEY.

(BY A. P. STORY WIRE.)

SPOKANE (Idaho) May 19.—More than eighty trap shooters from Washington, Oregon, Idaho, Montana, British Columbia, California, and Utah were here today to compete in the annual tournament of the Spokane Gun Club, to continue for two days. Twelve events were to be shot off today.

By virtue of their victory, the Poly boys tied the league leaders—Pasadena—and a battle will now be waged by the two teams for the City and County League championship. According to the schedule, each team has one more game to play before the 1919 city prep schedule comes to an end.

By trouncing the Crown City lads, Payne, the star heater of the Poly squad, hung up his fourth straight victory. Starting out the season with a somewhat ragged team, the Polyites under the able coaching of Mentor Mahoney have developed into one of the strongest ball aggregations in the south.

From the opening session both Payne and Webster of Pasadena engaged in a veritable hurley's duel. It was a nip and tuck affair throughout, with the Poly boys being a bit heavier on the stick work than their adversaries. Payne succeeded in striking out eight men and allowed but four hits.

Four costly bobbles played a major part in bringing forth the downfall of the Pasadena team. Just when the Pasadena boys should have tightened up, an apparently slight error developed into an important play as far as Payne was concerned. The Poly boys took advantage of every opportunity to score and thereby hangs the tale of the game.

Pasadena went into the fracas a big favorite and it must be said that Coach Harry Trotter had his men trained to the minute. But as stated above the local lads "wielded a wicked willow" and due to their ability to hold the Pasadena boys when they started a rally, the Mechanics were able to down their opponents and thus tied them for first place honors.

The Washington-street school lads clicked out eight safe singles that proved their base running ability they chalked up as many runs. Only two errors were marked up against the winning team.

Both sides played a dandy game, the claim of play at all times being of high caliber. The battery of Payne and Johnston for Poly was especially prominent throughout the struggle, while Webster and Riddle for the losers also gave a dandy exhibition.

For, should anyone doubt the fact that the American Navy has been the air in the cross-Atlantic trip by airplane was one of the most successful of the season.

Payne, Mechanic Star, Wins Four Straight Games.

Webster Also Twirls Well for Crown City Boys.

Polytechnic High School's baseball team yesterday staged what is commonly referred to as the impossible. The heretofore undefeated Pasadena High nine went down to defeat at the hands of the Mechanics, the score of the game being 5 to 1.

The fray was staged at Washington ball diamond before one of the largest crowds of prep fans that has gathered thus far this season.

LEWIS WINS FROM ZBYSKO.

Gives One of the Greatest Exhibitions of Grit Ever Seen.

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.)

COLLEGE (Chicago) May 19.—Giving one of the greatest exhibitions of grit and determination ever seen in a roped arena, Ed (Strangler) Lewis, the Kentucky grappler, after losing the first fall in 1:26:52, came back and won the next two bouts in his finish match with Wladimir Zbyzsko, the Pole, at the Coliseum tonight.

With defeat staring him in the face, Lewis crawled through the ropes for the second fall with a look of determination which could not be broken. After the Pole had broken one head lock, clamped on from a floor position the men went to their feet. Quick as a cat, Lewis put on the hold again and the Pole hit the mat with a resounding thud.

Lewis adjusted his weight and two seconds later Referee Martin Delaney patted Lewis on the back as a token of victory.

The time for the fall was 12:56. It was the greatest exhibition of wrestling ever seen in the ring since the days of Frank Gotch. Every hold known to the game was employed and the great crowd left the building satisfied with having seen one of the greatest bouts in mat history.

It was one of the few important matches on record where a man has come back and won two straight falls after losing the first. For this reason Lewis deserves all the credit which can be bestowed on him, and the type of athlete characteristic of America.

Seldom has it happened that two such powerful men have taken part in a match that held the interest of the crowd from start to finish. All the time and falls were expected at any time.

KILLEFER'S MEN RETURN HOME.

Broke Even on the Recent Northern Invasion.

Bill Essick and Tigers Off for Sacramento.

Will be Minus Services of Meusel in Capital.

The Angells fold got back to home and mother yesterday morning, headed by the indomitable Killefer and nothing the worse for wear and tear of the seven contests they had with the peppy Oaks. The Seraphs broke even, Stephen, up north, winning three, losing a trio and tying one. All the cherubs were feeling in tiptop fettle with the exception of the Coast's Babe Ruth, the silent Bill Parica. Bill sprained his ankle in a game against the Cummins and will probably coddle the injured member for several days. He will probably be seen on the mound toward the end of the week against the Climbers.

With the return of the Angells, local fans are reminded that the Seraphs are now three and one-half games to the good in the Coast League race. This is an excellent lead just now, and it should be stretched a little between now and next Monday, as in that time, Killefer will hook in a seven-game swatfest with the lowly Seattles.

Master Aldridge is slated to hang in on the visitors today. He pitched a good game against the Oaklanders and appears to be fast rounding in to his best shape.

Manager Killefer is highly pleased with the work of Haney at short and will continue to use the Los Angeles lad at that important station as long as he maintains the standard of ability. He showed against the Oaks. Paddy Driscoll had a fielding slump and will be kept on the bench for a while. He is in excellent condition and will be used in an emergency.

Old Kili Keworth is now holding down his favorite position around the keystone bag and is expected from now on to play with his old-time brilliancy. Killefer will hike himself to the center garden, he had did up north and Nierste will amble around the difficult task.

All Essick and his climbing Tiggers left here last night for Sacramento and a hobnobbing over with outliners will miss the services of Bobbie Meusel while he is in the capital hooking up with the Senators in a six-game series. He was pleased beyond measure at the showing of Ed Odell, the present champion who is in France, does not wrestle again.

As a result of this contest Lewis is entitled to the world's heavyweight title, providing Sgt. Earl Coddock, the present champion who is in France, does not wrestle again.

Lewis won a done-fall match from Joe Stecher, who in turn defeated Zbyzsko at Louisville. Lewis tonight earned the just claim to the title by defeating Zbyzsko.

The Pole's victory in the first fall came unexpectedly. The men had battled each other for 1:34 and were on their feet when suddenly the Pole secured a head lock and threw Lewis over his head by what is known as a flying mare. He then pounced on the prostrate Lewis and pinned him with a reverse body lock in 1:36:52.

It had appeared that Lewis had spent himself. The Pole broke every hold Strangler attempted with apparent ease and Zbyzsko, although not on top as often as Lewis, was master of the situation at all times.

FIRST :: FRENCH :: BRIDE :: HERE.

Local Soldier Brings Her from Overseas.

Corp. Frank Carlson and His French Bride.

When Frank Carlson went to war with the Eighteenth Railroad Engineers he was heart whole and fancy free, but when he stepped from the train here twenty-three months later Corp. Carlson introduced to his parents, Mrs. Frank Carlson, formerly Jeanne Biot, a real French girl for bride, the first to reach Los Angeles. Fifteen men in the Eighteenth Engineers brought home war brides, and if they are all as happy as are young Carlson and his bride they are all happy young people indeed.

Jeanne Biot Carlson cannot now speak a word of English, but she taught her husband French and he is teaching her English. And the parents of young Carlson made very welcome the young bride who has come 6000 miles with her husband to a land where she knew not word of the language. Just now the bride lives in the midst of the Carlson family at their home, 2311

Farmington street, and smiles at motherly Mrs. Carlson and Father-in-law Carlson, but though she is unable to understand what the sons are saying she knows that in among people who have all taken her into their hearts, she will learn English soon, said Mrs. Carlson Sr. "She tells me that she thinks America is first, and I know she is happy here."

Frank Carlson who is a Los Angeles man still in his twenties, enlisted with the railroad engineers on June 10, 1917, and landed in France in August with the first 100,000 American troops.

The railroad engineers were stationed in a suburb of Boulogne and soon became acquainted with everyone in the village and were taken into the homes of the French people and welcomed. In this way Frank Carlson became acquainted with Jeanne Biot, almost his own age, daughter of the village baker. After the armistice was signed the fifteen marriages in the regiment took place and Corp. Carlson last night, on April 25 when the regiment arrived in New York on the Texas fifteen, twenty soldier husbands married the twenty-five French girls.

ATTORNEY HITS INDUSTRIES GET BULK OF LOAN.

Steady Loss Under Federal Operation, He Says.

Arguments are Heard in Rate Restraining Action.

To Mark Time Until Supreme Court Rules on Issue.

Alexander Smith, San Francisco attorney, joined the universal hammer chorus against government control of public utilities yesterday.

When in a hearing before United States District Judge Trippett, he made the statement that, since the government had taken over the management and control of the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company it had been a losing proposition.

The occasion was the hearing of the motion by San Diego and neighboring cities for an order for the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company to be sold to the public.

It should not be restrained from putting into effect today certain increased rates for telephone service in San Diego, East San Diego, Chula Vista, National City, Coronado, and other points in the vicinity, where about 25,000 telephones are in operation, and an additional revenue of $150,000 is involved.

Assistant United States District Attorney Palmer stated that the office of the United States District Attorney had been ordered by Attorney General to associate itself with the defense in the case. He declared that he doubted the jurisdiction of the court to hear the motion, and did not think it had any authority to interfere with the orders of President Wilson, through Postmaster General Burleson, or the management or control of any public utility taken over by the government under powers conferred upon the President by Congress.

It was suggested by S. G. Sellick, representing San Diego, that an early decision of the right of the public to use the telephone should be made. He thought it would be best to maintain the status quo until the issue has been determined by the court of last resort.

This was opposed by Attorney Smith, who declared that the telephone business had been a financial loser under government management, and that he did not think the company should be placed at the disadvantage of being unable to collect the rates it was entitled to.

He refused to pay the increase, for the only way they had of collecting the money was to cut off the service.

Judge Trippett stated that in service public utility corporations were sought to be enjoined from enforcing certain rates it was the usual thing to have an order restraining the status quo until the matter could be threshed out in court in all its aspects. He thought such an order would be eminently proper.

A recess was taken for five minutes so the attorneys could get together, and Senator L. A. Wright, representing the phone company, then announced that a stipulation would be filed agreeing to a postponement until Monday next, and that if, in the meantime, the company took any measures to deprive the public of service the court might take up the motion requiring the company to show cause why it should not be restrained.

Twenty-four hours' notice. In the meantime the United States Supreme Court may take such action as will render the further hearing of the motion unnecessary.

Coronado was represented by Johnson P. Fitch, San Diego, Stephen Higgins and S. G. Sellick, East San Diego by Arthur T. French and the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company by Senator L. A. Wright of San Diego and Alexander Smith of San Francisco.

STORY OF LOVE IS REVEALED.

Mahana wanted a definite agreement to provide sufficient income to maintain herself and her two children. Right there and then a document was drawn up and signed by Mr. Mahana in which he agreed to pay his wife $100 a month. It was stated in this agreement that Mrs. Mahana had found it impossible to live together, and that all there is in their case—they are not connected. Though they have been separated for two years, Mr. Mahana continued to support his wife and children and pay all their bills without limit, and so notified all of the Los Angeles stores where the family bought their supplies. I am sure that Mrs. Mahana will confirm this.

Mr. Mahana was served with writs in the suit on Friday evening as he was boarding a train at the Salt Lake depot for Las Vegas. Mrs. Mahana is living with her two children at 1911 Third avenue. She is an invalid. It was said yesterday, as the result of an ice-skating accident, and is confined to her bed.

FOSTER-MOTHER SHOCKED.

Dispatches received last night from Kansas City stated that Mrs. A. C. Glass, mother of Mrs. Helen Green, had been made ill by the reports received from Los Angeles of trouble in the Green family. W. J. Glass, an adopted son of Mrs. Glass, said:

"We are holding back, waiting to hear the other side of the case. There must be another side. The family has heard nothing definite, but we have felt for some time that there was a strained situation in the Green household. We merely guessed at this from vague expressions in Helen's letters."

He said they had never heard of Mahana. Both W. J. Glass and Mrs. Green were adopted by the Glass couple, small children. The Glass family were wealthy and childless and lived in a great Colorado sandstone house in large grounds at Tenth and Olive streets. The Greens lived two blocks away. Both families were barbershops of St. Aloisius church.

Oil Producers in Lead, with Railroads Second.

Gratifying Showing Reported by the Committee.

Five Departments Found to be in Zero Class.

Two-thirds of the Los Angeles quota of the Victory Loan was secured through the subcommittees of the industrial organization. It is shown in a statement issued last night by Director James Sheldon Hiller. The organization's total amount to $25,000,000 and is 100.5 per cent of the quota assigned to it. Director Hiller feels proud of this record of achievement and in a communication to the general chairman, subchairman and committee-men, said:

"Considering the difficulties encountered and the many handicaps under which the various committees labored we feel that the showing is a most gratifying one."

The oil producers head the list of subscribers with $2,723,550, and the railroads come next with $1,245,555. The shipbuilders are high up with $990,550, leading the motion-picture people, who took $921,400 worth of bonds.

Five subdivisions failed to subscribe anything. Those represented by errors are hardware supplies, blacksmiths, hootblack, chiropractors, information bureau, night-seeing companies and taxi cabs.

BY CHAPIN HALL.

The Texas oil fields continue to hold a great lure for the speculative investor, and as fast as the money raised by the unscrupulous owners of the supposed oil deposits are tickled by the wildcat's drill. The returns, when there are any returns, are so attractive, that hardy adventurers in the realm of speculative finance literally tumble over themselves for an opportunity to invest their savings in the search for the pot of gold at the rainbow's end. Fortunes have been made—and lost—and other fortunes are now in process of making or losing. The Texas oil fields are the early days of the Texas boom, but she is making up for it now, and thousands of other fortunes are being made in the oil fields of this State, and in recently formed companies (organized for the purpose of developing the field further and more intensively) are being formed in this city, while other thousands are daily being purchased through the dealers in the offerings. One of the most recently organized companies is the Pacific Petroleum, with a capital stock of $500,000. Company headquarters are in Fort Worth, but a large percentage of the stockholders are of this city. W. M. Keck, its president, is a Los Angeles man. R. H. Henderson, second vice-president, has been for twenty years in the oil fields of this State, and was at one time principal owner in the Midway Premier, in the Kern County fields. Charles E. Cooper, secretary-treasurer, was the general manager of Robert Marsh & Co., and one of the organizers of the Continental National Bank of this city. NEW YORK STOCK MARKET.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, May 19.—Trading on the stock exchange today was influenced to a large extent by the opening of the extra session in Congress, to which the financial community looks for early relief, and an unusual demand for several of the more popular shipping shares. Ralls, oils and some of the many industrials and unclassified specialties which have figured more or less extensively in the almost uninterrupted advance of the past four weeks also contributed, but heavy selling, probably for profits, effected a general reversal later. Marine common and preferred, American International and representative, as well as minor ralls, led the rise at the opening, but the heaviness of Atlantic Gulf, General Motors and steel encouraged the short interest to engage in a series of drives. The first selling movement centered around American International and Canadian Pacific and equipment, but was followed by a sharp rally. In the final hour offerings

PACIFIC LIGHT & POWER CORPORATION FIRST AND REFUNDING MORTGAGE 5% GOLD BONDS

Dated September 1, 1911.

Interest payable March 1st and September 1st in Los Angeles and New York.

These bonds are a closed first mortgage of approximately $7,500,000 upon the property owned by the Southern California Edison Company at Big Creek in Fresno county, and the interest thereon is secured by the same property. The sinking fund provides for an annual payment to the trustees of $234,276, which money is to be used in buying bonds at the market. These bonds are cancelled, but the interest thereon is not offered in the market at less than 105 and interest, the trustee must call by lot as much as can be paid for at 105 and interest. We believe every bond of this issue will be sold at a premium later than 1925 through the operation of this sinking fund.

During the past twelve years both the gross and net earnings of the properties now comprising the Edison system have more than tripled, and for the year ended November 30, 1918, were as follows:

Gross Earnings	$6,808,970.00
Operating Expenses, including taxes, insurance and current maintenance	3,300,410.00
Net Earnings before depreciation	$3,508,560.00
Annual interest charge on outstanding underlying mortgage bonds, including this issue	1,760,840.00
Balance for other interest, dividends and depreciation	$1,747,720.00
Net earnings more than three times annual underlying mortgage bond interest charges

At the market price, this bond yields 5.65% if held to 1925, and about 8% if sold at a premium later than 1925. We heartily recommend this bond to investors who want an exceptionally secure investment.
